

Upgrade Yourself

See how Opinion can multiply your investment over the next 36 months.

We need more capital to grow Opinion. By 36 months, he will acquire the necessary interest and will be valued at 2.5 to 5 million euros.

Therefore any investment you conduct in the project would multiply its value several times within this period alone.

At this stage, we accept investments starting from €500. Our advice is to try investing a small amount in us, and we will explain in detail what is new and when we will add it to the project with your investment.

Contact us at: ceo@opinion.network or +359 988 856 462

ORanks

Social networks engage you in a fragmented and non-transparent way with the things you are interested in - they offer you adjusted, mixed, or paid information (advertisements) based on the data they track about you (even if you just searched for something on Google for a moment). They know more about you than you can remember about yourself. There is no transparent system by which you can see classified information of what interests you.

Imagine an honestly ordered ranking of news, blog posts, video materials, new products, corporate news, etc. for your every interest. This way you will be in the world trend in the fastest way for the things you are interested in.

ORanks (monthly web rankings) will also help content writers reach only individuals with a stable interest in the topic, without tracking and extracting your personal information.

How would it feel to see a monthly ranking for each of your interests?

Register here to support the project.

OMessages

How do you stay informed about what's happening around you? In our hectic daily lives, it's easy to miss what's going on, even within your own apartment building. Participating in Facebook groups for your city or neighborhood often leaves out important things due to various factors. For instance, if a local store in your neighborhood has a new product or promotion, or there's a local event you'd be interested in, you might not hear about it in time or fully miss it.

What if, in just a few seconds, you could see what is happening in your city, neighborhood, street, or even your apartment building? Imagine a place where anyone can send messages to people in a city, neighborhood, street, or even an apartment building.

You will know where is the party at the moment, where the best offers are in your neighborhood, or when the water will be turned off in your building. You can propose and participate in various improvements around you. OMessages is designed for developing local communication worldwide, supporting local businesses, and facilitating communication between local institutions and citizens.

If you like the idea, please register and support the project.